

Books and Materials Buy-Back Form

The Center for Independent and Distance Learning will repurchase books and materials under certain conditions. The course must be current, and the books and materials must be in good condition. The repurchase price is one-half of the used textbook. The Center for Independent and Distance Learning is not responsible for textbooks and other materials that do not reach its office. Any outstanding balance with the Bursar's Office will be deducted from the repurchase price. Refunds may take five or six weeks.

We cannot buy back Study Guides, workbooks with missing pages, books we no longer use, or books returned soiled, marked, or damaged. CDs, audiotapes, videotapes, book kits, or other kits that accompany a course must be returned complete. We will buy these back for one-half the original price provided they aren't damaged in any way and the set is complete. The decision of the Center will be final.
